WHAT PMG DOES

PMG first helps federal primes identify, engage, vet, and organize qualified subcontractor candidates for difficult, under-covered, or time-sensitive scopes. PMG also supports construction-material procurement through supplier discovery, alternates research, availability checks, quote coordination, and procurement-file support. The prime retains all selection, contracting, safety, and performance authority.

CORE CAPABILITIES

- Socioeconomic small-business sourcing: targeted identification and outreach to SB, SDVOSB, VOSB, HUBZone, WOSB/EDWOSB, and 8(a)/SDB firms.
- Trade, scope, geography, capacity, and bidder-interest confirmation.
- Vetting and prequalification file assembly: entity, licensing, insurance, bonding, safety, capacity, past performance, and federal status.
- Candidate shortlists, requirement matrices, missing-item tracking, exception flags, and source-linked verification records.
- Placement support through introductions and organized handoff to the prime's approved onboarding and contracting process.
- Construction-material and MRO supplier discovery for defined project packages and operational needs.
- Alternates research, availability and lead-time checks, quote coordination, and procurement-file support.

CONSTRUCTION-MATERIAL PROCUREMENT

PMG's construction-material and distribution background strengthens both services: it helps us understand the trade scope before sourcing subcontractors and gives primes one accountable resource for related material-package research and coordination.

DEFINED ROLE & RISK BOUNDARIES
